

You may not be aware of some of the amazing artwork displayed throughout the City of Farmers Branch. While many people are aware of the public art around town, artwork displayed in local businesses and buildings is not as widely known. One of the goals of the Arts & Culture Committee is to share with the Farmers Branch community, as many opportunities as possible, to see unique art displayed in our City.

This month, we are featuring two displays of theatrical art that can be found in The Firehouse Theatre lobby, both featuring works of North Texas based artists.

MARK MULLINO

The painted canvases are by Mark Mullino, featuring his signature style of sketching, painting over the sketch, and then adding music notation on top of the image. Mark is a painter by day, and musical director by night.

JASON ANDERSON

Jason is an Emmy Award-winning photographic artist specializing in portraits and currently working in television production.
