

CARL KING

Senior Vice-President – Integration

Carl is a seasoned executive who builds innovative network solutions and brings them to market to help employers and individuals get the most value from the health care system.

Prior to joining the Humana integration team, Carl was responsible for many of Aetna's largest customers in his role as President of National Accounts.

When Carl was Head of National Networks and Contracting Services, he had nationwide responsibility for network strategy, high-performance networks, value-based contracting and fraud prevention. He also led the integration of Aetna and Coventry's provider networks.

Carl spent many years running field operations. He was a Regional President for Aetna responsible for eleven states.

Prior to joining Aetna he was Executive Director for Prudential's North Texas operation.

Mr King was also CEO of Health Alliance Medical Plans, an innovative provider-sponsored plan based in Urbana, Illinois for five years.

Carl started out in the hospital business running hospitals for Hospital Corporation of America. He also has multi-specialty group management experience.

Carl earned his B.B.A. degree in Health Administration from Georgia State University and his M.H.A. degree in Health Administration from Duke University.