BACKGROUND:

The City has been and is currently using the 2012 International Fuel Gas Code since March of 2014. Model construction codes such as the IFGC are updated and re-published on a three-year cycle. Staff is recommending updating to the most current edition, the 2015 International Fuel Gas Code. A notable change to the 2015 IFGC includes the section regarding pipe protection has been rewritten to require regulators installed on rigid pipes shall now have a union to allow for removal of the regulator. Currently, all of our neighboring municipalities have adopted and are enforcing the 2015 IFGC with the exception of the City of Coppell and the Town of Addison.
